

At City Creek Living, we designed every condo with state of the art technology in mind. We wanted owners confident they could keep up with the latest high-tech trends such as Blu-ray high definition, surround sound systems, digital music and home automation. Every unit has been pre-wired for ceiling speaker installation, high definition televisions, high speed internet, and smart home system technology.

Because City Creek is a MDU (Multi-Dwelling Unit) environment, we painstakingly adhered to stringent guidelines for acoustical treatments and fire ratings. Thus, all audio and video equipment must be acoustically treated with the proper materials to reduce sound transmission and vibrations. This ensures your condo is soundproof and the building envelope maintains the fire rating and building standards in which it was designed.
